COVID-19 Community Vaccinations

Today we began vaccinations for our entire TWN community. Thank you to everyone who came out to receive their vaccine. A reminder that vaccinations do not mean the end of current restrictions. Please continue to wear a mask, practise social distancing, and not gather.

COVID-19 Elder Vaccinations

Our elders led the way by receiving their COVID-19 vaccine last week. We thank them for continuing to lead by example and doing their part to keep our community safe. We ask the rest of the community to follow in their footsteps and receive their vaccine.

More information will follow in the coming weeks on our next COVID-19 vaccine clinic.

Elder Aunty Marie's opening for the Elder's vaccination clinic

Thank you to Aunty Marie for sharing your words and a healing song with us. This was a beautiful prayer for the elders who received their vaccine, and in protection of our community. Here is a quote from her:

“We believe everything has a spirit. This sickness that has plagued the world is a big spirit. And it doesn't look at any colour of people or religion, it just goes through the whole world. The medicine that has arrived today is something that can fight it, and it deserves welcoming, because that will have a strong spirit too. It's going to say we're going to end this. Each and everyone of you have worked and worked to keep us safe, to keep us healthy. You've worked hard. I've seen you all working, and for myself, as I'm sure for the rest of the people, they're so happy and proud of you.”

NOTICE

Amendment to the Burrard Indian Band
Zoning By-law No. 1, 1992
for the Community Subdivision

Please be advised that TWN Council has initiated the drafting of an Amendment to the TWN Zoning Bylaw for Phase 1 of the Community Subdivision.

The proposed amendment to the TWN Zoning Bylaw will permit the rezoning of Lot 100 in the community subdivision to allow for a 4 storey, 50-unit multifamily rental building. The proposed rezoning amendment will cover subject matter that includes: permitted uses, conditions of use, site coverage, yard setbacks, height, density, and parking. Please see the attached project summary provided with this notice for more information on the proposed development.

If you have any questions or concerns about this amendment, please provide written comment by email (lands@twnation.ca), by mail (see address at the bottom of this notice), or by fax (604-929-4714). ## Community Subdivision - Notice of rezoning for Phase 1 of the Community Subdivision

Tsleil-Waututh Nation People of the Inlet

Project Summary: Phase 1 Community Subdivision

TWN is in the early stages of developing a concept plan for Phase 1 of the community subdivision. The proposed concept plan proposes a 6 storey, wood frame building. Please note that these are preliminary plans of Phase 1. TWN will be engaging with TWN Members over the next year to finalize the design of this future rental building.

The Concept Plan (Figure 1 below) shows the proposed building is tiered: four storeys face Spa-ath Rd (North) to provide a lower, street-oriented elevation and six additional storeys are set back from the street, oriented South towards the forest. The proposal includes approximately 50 rental units for TWN Members.

Parking stalls, bike parking, mechanical, and unit storage is located under the building and at grade at the south side of the building. In an effort to develop a cost-efficient building, the concept plan does not provide underground parking. An optional, common outdoor area is proposed on the roof of the 4-storey block, to promote community and provide additional outdoor amenity space.

Andrew Van Eden, Community Safety Manager

TWN & Reforming the Police Act

Back in December, 2020, British Columbia's Legislative Assembly appointed a Special Committee on Reforming the Police Act. The purpose of the committee is to examine, inquire, and make recommendations on ways to modernize the Police Act and ensure the policing model is sustainable. Various groups and communities around the province were asked to weigh in, including Tsleil-Waututh Nation.

Chief Leah George-Wilson and I had the opportunity to present to the committee on how police services can better meet the needs of Tsleil-Waututh Nation members, and incorporate the recommendations from the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

As the committee looks to implement change going forward, I am proud to know that input from Tsleil-Waututh Nation is being included in the new policing framework. Tsleil-Waututh has made a progressive effort in establishing IFNU but this isn't enough. We continue to strive for more self-determination and representation in the policing of the TWN community.

MEDIA RELEASE:

MST Nations Support City of Vancouver's Motion for Implementation of United Nations Indigenous Rights Declaration

MUSQUEAM

TSLEIL-WAUTUTH

MARCH 4, 2021, VANCOUVER, BC — Musqueam, Squamish, and Tsleil-Waututh (the MST Nations) proudly support Vancouver City Council in calling for the implementation of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. The motion calling for the implementation of the UN Declaration advances the work of reconciliation in the City of Vancouver and will meaningfully advance the successful relationship between the City of Vancouver and Indigenous peoples.

As the three First Nations with rights and title to Vancouver, the MST Nations have been supportive of the City of Vancouver's approach to reconciliation and Indigenous relations, and have supported provincial and federal decisions to create frameworks for the UN Declaration implementation.

*"It's easy for colonizers or settlers to only engage in something when wealth is involved, as that's the very thing that brought them here. It's another thing for our people. Musqueam wasn't brought here by wealth. We were created here, we belong here, and we were here before much of this land and resources were. Our connection is different and our need to engage comes from a different place. Our culture and language are not transportable. You can't just "move" when things get bad. This is our home. The "Canadian" method of consumption has left us wanting and on the brink of environmental collapse. We have lived lives of balance that have guided us for millennia. It's enshrined in your sx̣wəyə́m. It's these principles that Canada (and the world) needs to be able to last another century and beyond."*

– qiyəplenəxʷ - Councillor Howard E. Grant, Musqueam Indian Band

"The Squamish Nation proudly endorses the City of Vancouver joining the Province and potentially soon the Federal government in working with First Nations to implement the UN Declaration. This is a historic opportunity to build on our past successes and move into a new phase of recognizing, affirming, and implementing the human rights of Indigenous Peoples."

– Spokesperson Khelsilem, Squamish Nation

"The City of Vancouver's decision to implement the UN Declaration is a move that is strongly supported by Tsleil-Waututh Nation. As a Nation, we look forward to working with the City's task force on the UN Declaration to work towards systemic change based on mutual understanding and respect for the human rights of Indigenous Peoples, for the benefit of present and future generations."

– Chief Leah George-Wilson, Tsleil-Waututh Nation

MST Nations

TSLEIL-WAUTUTH

The motion being submitted for Vancouver City Council consideration includes creating a task force with representation from the MST Nations and Vancouver City Council to work collaboratively on a high-level report with recommendations on the next steps to implement the UN Declaration in the City of Vancouver.

The MST Nations look forward to continuing to work with Vancouver City Council to advance this work for the benefit of Indigenous peoples living throughout the city of Vancouver.

- END -

Background:

The UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples was adopted by the UN General Assembly on September 13, 2007, as a triumph for justice and human dignity following more than two decades of negotiations between governments and Indigenous Peoples' representatives. Among many significant components, the UN Declaration:

- establishes a universal framework of minimum standards for the survival, dignity, well-being and rights of the world's Indigenous peoples;
- addresses individual and collective rights; cultural rights and identity; rights to education, health, employment, language, and others; and
- outlaws discrimination against Indigenous peoples and promotes their full and effective participation in all matters that concern them.

Call for Weavers

COAST SALISH WOVEN WALL HANGING

PUBLIC ART CALL FOR EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST

Deadline: March 29, 2021

PUBLIC ART OPPORTUNITY

The City of North Vancouver Public Art Program is inviting Expressions of Interest from experienced weavers working in the local indigenous tradition, to create a contemporary Coast Salish woven wall hanging for the entrance lobby of the North Vancouver City Library.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The North Vancouver City Library wishes to commission a work of contemporary Coast Salish weaving to be featured on a wall near the entrance to the library. Ideally the Library would like to incorporate opportunities for community members and library staff to learn from, and (if it can be safely done) co-create with the weaver.

Casting Call

Casting Search for "The Swarm"

TV SERIES

based on the best-selling novel "The Swarm" by Frank Schatzing

[LEON ANAWAK] Male, late 20s-mid 30s, Indigenous, Canadian (First Nations, Inuit, or Metis), a cetologist with a PhD, physically fit from years of diving and working on the water. Striking, charismatic, with an intelligent face and a sense of wariness -- ever-watchful eyes guarding hidden depths. He is an introvert, a man uncomfortable in his own skin, who is not prone to being at ease in large social gatherings. While he's uncomfortable with people, he has a deep and spiritual connection to the ocean -- he is passionate about his work with whales, and has an abundance of compassion for them. He is a scientist through and through -- inclined to believe conclusions based on provable, tangible study. When he first hears of odd cetaceous behavior from a fisherman, he is certain it cannot be true, but the tables quickly turn when he witnesses it for himself and he realizes a much bigger mystery is beginning to reveal itself... SERIES REGULAR, PLEASE NOTE: actor must be comfortable in the water and be able to swim

[JACK "GREYWOLF"] Male, 30s, Indigenous, Canadian (First Nations, Inuit, or Metis). Tough, critically-minded but just and equitable. He's happy with his life -- sincere, candid, and good-natured. Greywolf is ex-military, a veteran who became an officer for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) upon return to civilian life on Vancouver Island. He's a quick thinker, level-headed, and able to remain calm and collected when called to action. When a tourist boat capsizes, he's deftly capable and leads an RCMP team as they pull those who went overboard from the water. Upon the loss of a mutual friend, he checks in on Anawak, providing genuine compassion and support. He lends an ear and some sympathetic advice on returning to a semblance of normalcy, speaking from his personal experience on coming home after serving in Afghanistan. RECUR, PLEASE NOTE: actor must be comfortable in the water and be able to swim

[KIT] Male, 60s, Indigenous, Canadian (First Nations, Inuit, or Metis). Weathered by a life on the sea, Kit is an honest, hardworking, unwaveringly principled man -- a small town fisherman like his father before him. Born and raised in Yuquot Bay in Western Canada, he knows the surrounding waters like the back of his hand. He has both a heavily lined face from spending his years on the ocean, and rough hands from a life of manual work. Incredibly shaken after he and his sons narrowly escape an unprovoked orca attack on their boat, he is at a loss to explain the creature's odd and aggressive behavior. He's well aware their story may seem outlandish or inconceivable, and that others may be more inclined to believe they were simply trying to prevent the orca from stealing their catch, or that they somehow incited the attack, but he just feels lucky he and his sons came out unscathed. RECUR

Call for Artists

Call For Artwork

Birds Canada is developing a mobile application that will allow for the recording of seabird observations via a user's tablet or phone. To help design the application, a survey is being circulated to gather ideas and this Call for Artwork is being issued to develop a logo. Interested artists are encouraged to submit an original piece of art to be used as the logo for a mobile application. Given this use, the piece should roughly follow the dimensions of a square or circle and can be easily scaled to the dimensions of 512 x 512 pixels while still maintaining the image's integrity.

The artist of the selected piece will be awarded a $500 honorarium.

For more information and to submit your piece for consideration, please contact
